Penn Highlands Eye Center

Eyesight is often taken for granted until a problem arises. When it does, it can be scary and it may take a specialist to help fix the problem. Luckily, there are physicians called ophthalmologists who specialize in eye care and eye surgery.

Ophthalmologists differ from optometrists and opticians in their levels of training and in what conditions they can diagnose and treat. An ophthalmologist is licensed to practice medicine and surgery; an ophthalmologist diagnoses and treats all eye diseases, performs eye surgery, and prescribes and fits eyeglasses and contact lenses to correct vision problems.

With over ten years of ophthalmology experience and excellence in eye care, the physicians and staff at Penn Highlands Eye Center can take care of all of your eye care needs.
